

Center for Global Health and Social Responsibility

The Center for Global Health and Social Responsibility (CGHSR) is a Unit of the Academic Health Center (AHC) established to advance global health research and education.

Our Portfolios

Network

Advance networks of affiliated sites focused on global health to support transdisciplinary education, research, and engagement.

- Develop Hubs of Innovation around the world, built on existing relationships, to offer infrastructure for partnered global health research and education.
- Operate the Uganda Hub and convene the Minnesota-Uganda Partnerships group.
- Assess and evaluate strategic alliances through a quality improvement program.

Education

Champion transdisciplinary opportunities to exchange knowledge and expand abilities of teachers and learners for the advancement of global health.

- Host the annual Global Health Case Competition and sponsor global health lectures and seminars.
- Support the development of courses and placements to prepare learners to advance global health.
- Deliver education programs in India, Ecuador, Thailand, and in Minnesota.
- Provide student scholarships at home and abroad.

Research

Catalyze effective global health research at the U of M, as well as in CGHSR networks and hubs.

- Pursue and distribute seed funding for research.
- Convene multidisciplinary groups to pursue grant opportunities.
- Connect researchers to each other and to resources.
- Host the International Research Series to highlight best practices in planning and implementing global health research studies.
- Administer the Fogarty Global Health Fellowship.

Capacity

Strengthen the systems and infrastructure supporting global health research and education at the U of M AHC.

- Explore new models for supporting and delivering global health education and research.
- Convene partners for collaboration, information sharing, and strengthening of resources via our Leadership Council, Global Health Student Advisory Board (GHSAB), and other groups.
- Showcase global health via the Global Health Impact Map, Global Health Day, and other venues.
- Coordinate International Travel Experience Management System (ITEMS), an AHC student management system

Vision

One Health One Science One World

Mission

Focus and strengthen the impact of the U of M's global land grant mission with regard to health issues at the interface of humans, animals and ecosystems.

We accomplish this by facilitating transdisciplinary partnerships and collaborations across the U of M and worldwide.
